Headline:
England and Wales mostly dry this weekend.

Today:
Most areas will have a dry day with a mix of cloud and some sunny spells, some parts rather cloudy at times. Thicker cloud over northern Scotland will give rain at times. Feeling chilly under cloud.

Tonight:
Many areas dry, cold and frosty with a mixture of cloud and clear spells. Thicker cloud over parts of Scotland leads to some rain here.

Sunday:
England and Wales dry with a mixture of cloud and sunny spells. Northern Ireland and Scotland, meanwhile, cloudier with some rain and drizzle, mainly in the north and west.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Settled initially albeit often rather cloudy, with light winds and some patchy rain for some. Rather cold with pockets of overnight frost. Turning unsettled Wednesday with rain and strengthening winds.
